Alexander P. Pinegar joined the firm as a law clerk in 2005 and as an associate in October 2006. Alex represents clients in a variety of matters including school law, estate planning, probate, and commercial and personal injury litigation. Mr. Pinegar is admitted to practice in the Indiana Supreme Court and both United States District Courts for Northern and Southern Districts of Indiana. He is a member of the Indiana and Hamilton County Bar Associations.

Alex is a native of Muncie, Indiana. Growing up, he was heavily involved in his community doing volunteer work through both his church and school system. In 2003, Alex graduated summa cum laude from Taylor University (Upland, Indiana), where he majored in Political Science and studied Philosophy, History, Music, and Pre-Law. Alex attended Indiana University School of Law-Indianapolis. There he participated in Moot Court and received the Elijah Lovejoy Award, which is awarded for the best Moot Court brief, and the George O. Dix Award which is awarded to the graduating senior who submits the best senior paper. Alex graduated with his J.D. in May 2006 magna cum laude.

Alex is currently the President of the Board of Directors of Noblesville Main Street, Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving the charm and economic vibrancy of downtown Noblesville. Alex is also a board member of the Sheridan Chamber of Commerce. Alex serves on the Board of Deacons at his church, Grace Presbyterian Church in Indianapolis and is a clarinet player in the Lapel Community band. Alex lives in Noblesville with his wife Laura and son Calvin. Alex enjoys playing and listening to music and is an accomplished pianist. His other outside interests include baseball and basketball, reading, and spending time with his wife and son.
